FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

LifeSafety Power Announces Mercury Security Breakthrough Industry's first embedded native firmware integration adds seamless proactive power reporting for leading Mercury software partners

March 29, 2017—LifeSafety Power Inc., Mundelein, Ill., announced a breakthrough in connecting intelligent power management analytics to leading software manufacturers directly through Authentic Mercury Security hardware. End users can now obtain intelligent alerts and power solution testing natively through one single user interface with no additional hardware.

 Read more...